TRUTH ON THE RED SHIRT GANG.

BRUTE FORCE.

June 28.—The seeds of brute force and lawlessness sown in the two last political campaigns in our state is now bringing forth fruit after its kind. On Monday morning, the 17th of June, an arrest was made in due course of law by the town constable for drunkenness and obscene language in the hearing of ladies at the hotel the preceding Saturday night. The mayor of the town, as the offender when sober, was a quiet, industrious, good citizen, discharged the prisoner on payment of a fine of one dollar and cost to the officer, and remain in custody till paid.

A former election constable who had guarded poll keepers with guns by their side, backed by others of their friends, stepped forward with their hands in their pockets, and demanded the instant release of the prisoner, thus dictating to the Mayor who was to be arrested and punished in the discharge of his duties as mayor. The town constable at once resigned his office, followed by the mayor; and this is the good government of the dominant party, and these men are backed by the machine that shot poll keepers, seized ballot boxes and stacked guns in churches and warehouses, intimidated the 109,543 white majority in order that they might ride into power and fatten upon offices of their own creation. And the bitter fruits of brute force are now before us in our town.

CIVES.
That Revenue Act.

Monroe Enquirer, (Dem.)
The revenue and machinery act passed by the last Legislature is one of the doggedest documents we have ever read. It is a manifesto issued to the business men of the State to stand and deliver. It lays an exorbitant special tax on almost every fellow who does not put his money in an old sock and hide it under the hearth. We are a too much taxed people, and that revenue and machinery act is the most oppressive as well as tax-revelling and machinery act will be repealed immediately if not sooner when the next Legislature meets, or the people will know why.

A North Carolina Candidate.
Washington Post.

Judge Spencer B. Adams, who was the Republican candidate for governor of North Carolina in the last campaign and is now an applicant for a judgeship in the Philippines, was presented to the President yesterday by Representative Moody, of the Asheville district, Judge Adams, who is not yet fifty years of age, served a term on the district bench and is said to be a lawyer of very fine attainments. All the North Carolina Republicans endorse his candidacy. The President is not yet advised as to the number of judicial places that will be created in the Philippines, but promised to consider Judge Adams' application.

Cadets as Wood Choppers.
Rock Hill, S. C. Herald.

A party of ten cadets of Clemson College started home with tickets by way of Blacksburg. When they reached the city the train on the S. C. & G. road had left, so they had to spend the day in Blacksburg. There was not a dollar in the whole party, but nothing daunted, the boys divided into squads of four or five each, and with their coats off applied for work at different homes in order to pay for their dinner, so that in the city of Blacksburg there is now a fine lot of stove wood, cut after the most improved teaching of C. A. C. Finally one of the boys communicated with Gastonia and arranged the finances for the crowd.

DEATH OF THE OXFORD CHILD.

Her Terrible Suffering From Hydrophobia—Fears for the Lives of Adults Whom She Attacked.

Baltimore Special, 23rd, to Washington Post.
On May 23, six-year-old Lucretia Cheving, of Oxford, N. C., was bitten through the nose by a pet dog with which she was playing. On June 19 she began to exhibit symptoms of hydrophobia, and preparations were at once made to bring her to the Pasteur Institute at the City Hospital here.

The journey had hardly begun on Saturday before the little one became wild with rabies. She fought like one pursued and barked and bit at those around her. In the struggle she tore her mother's flesh with her nails and also scratched her attending physician, Dr. Williams, of Oxford, as well as a strange gentleman who went to her assistance.

If the child's fingers were moistened with any of the saliva, the three adults are also in danger of being attacked with the dread malady. They are still in the city awaiting developments, and are being carefully watched by Prof. Keirle and his assistants at the Pasteur Institute.

At the station the ambulance was in waiting, and, fighting and kicking, the afflicted child was hurried to the hospital. She was immediately put under treatment, but without avail. Her suffering increased as the night advanced, and after midnight she died in terrible agony. Her mother is frantic with grief.

This is probably the first case of its kind in the local Pasteur Institute where a human being afflicted with rabies attacked others so that they also may be afflicted with hydrophobia. The developments are being watched with interest.

LITERARY NOTES.
The Great Northwest's First White Child

One of the most remarkable proofs of the amazing growth of that vast region of our country commonly called the Northwest, with its numerous sisterhood of states and its population of more than seven million people, is the fact that it is only a little more than eighty years since the first white baby was born there. The child was a girl, the daughter of a regular army officer, and she is still living. A fascinating account of her eventful life, the early years of which were spent among soldiers and savages, will appear in an early issue of The Ladies' Home Journal.

No End to Invention.

Each new invention calls at once for more. The gas range, which has only just forced recognition for itself as a household necessity, cries out for the invention of proper utensils to use upon it.

Asphalt streets have set new tasks for the inventor. He must make new types of shoes to give easy and secure footing for horses, and new street-cleaning apparatus. With rough pavements we were satisfied to get rid of the coarser dirt from the uneven surface, but now we are demanding apparatus that will rid our streets of dust as well.—Everybody's Magazine.

Late Literary News.

It is probably true that almost every man has in him certain qualities which would draw some woman to him, but it is difficult to frame a statement in general terms of "What Women Like in Men." This is the task which a very well known author, under the nom-de-plume of Harford Pyke, has undertaken in The Cosmopolitan for July in a clever essay, which proves him to have made woman the subject of thorough observation and comprehensive study. "The foreign girl," says the author, "marries the man with whom she will be happy, the American marries the man without whom she will be unhappy."

FOUR THOUSAND MILLIONAIRES.

Some Figures as to the Men Who Control the Money of the Country.

Southern Mercury.
According to the New York Herald, there are 3,828 millionaires in the United States, and in a recent issue it presents a detailed list of their names, classified according to the States in which they live. It says:

"One two-hundredth part of one percent of the population of the United States, or one person out of every 20,000, controls about one-fifth of the nation's wealth; that is, 3,828 millionaires out of a population little in excess of 76,000,000 own $16,000,000,000 of the $81,000,000,000 at which our entire property is fairly valued.

In the first quarter of the century just closed there were not more than half a dozen millionaires in the land, and two only—John Jacob Astor, New York, and Stephen Girard, in Philadelphia—had sufficient wealth to make them particularly conspicuous. Now we are nearing the 4,000 mark.

"In 87 per cent of the cases our millionaires have built their own fortunes, very many from the very bottom, and a large number on foundations laid by fathers or grandfathers.

"The millionaires have come from all of the industries—19 per cent. from real estate, 13 per cent. inherited, 12 per cent. railway and steamships, 10 per cent. banking, 6 per cent. mining, 6 per cent. farms and cattle, and from all other industries 5 per cent."

24,948 Filipinos Have Surrendered or Been Captured.

Washington, June 26.—The War Department has published a list of captures and surrenders in the Philippine Islands, supplementary to the list published on the 15th inst. The new list covers the period from April 15th to May 15th, 1901. During that period 21 officers and 181 men of the insurgent troops were captured and 42 officers and 5,869 men surrendered, making the total number of insurgents captured or surrendered up to May 15th last, 37,948. There were surrendered together with 25,110 rounds of ammunition and 24 cannon.

REPUBLICANS OF OHIO.

A VICEROUS PLANK ON THE SUFFRAGE QUESTION.

A Strict Enforcement of the Franchise Demanded—Congress Requested to Look After the Matter—A Plank on Combining and Monopolies.
The Ohio Republican Convention met in Columbus last week and nominated the following ticket: Governor—George K. Nash. Lieutenant Governor—Carl N. Nipper.

Judge Supreme Court—J. T. Price.
Attorney General—Jno. M. Sheela. Senator Hanna was made permanent chairman, and Senator Forsaker, in introducing him said he was "a man who knew his business and how to attend to it."

The plank on the suffrage question is as follows: "The right of franchise is vouchsafed to every American citizen by the federal constitution. We denounce, as no less criminal when committed by theft than when accomplished with the shotgun and by ballot box stuffing, and as antagonistic to the spirit of our institutions all attempts to deprive of their inalienable rights millions of our fellow citizens in certain states of the union. We therefore call upon our senators and representatives in congress for such legislation as shall secure the strict enforcement of constitutional measures guaranteeing to every citizen the right of franchise, without distinction as to race, color, or previous condition of servitude, and we demand that representation in congress and in the electoral college shall be based on the acting voting population as provided in the constitution, proportionate reduction being made for any state in which the right of suffrage is denied, except for crime."

"All criminals should be punished by due process of law and we denounce the crime of lynching as a foul blot upon civilization.

SUICIDE ON THE OCEAN.

A Distinguished Virginia Lawyer Jumps From a Steamer at Sea—His Third Attempt on His Life.
Glasgow, June 26.—The captain of the Anchor Line steamer Furness, from New York, June 16, which arrived here to-day, reports that Richard Walke, a lawyer of Virginia, jumped overboard from the steamer June 19 and was drowned.

Norfolk, June 25.—Richard Walke was a resident of Norfolk and one of the most distinguished lawyers of the state of Virginia. He leaves a wife and four daughters. The widow of Commodore Truxton is his sister. He was accompanied on the trip to Europe by his wife and a gentleman friend. His death is the third attempt on his life in recent years and he is the third of his family to die by their own hand within the past three years. In 1899 Henry Walke, his brother, shot himself in Brooklyn, while on a visit to that city. Littleton T. Walke, son of Richard Walke, stabbed himself to death in his room at the University of Virginia recently.

LOST IN THE NEUSE.

FOUR LIVES FOUND WATERY GRAVES AT NEW BERNE ON A PLEASURE RIDE.

A CLOOM OVER THE TOWN

A Sad Tragedy by Which a Prominent Family is Doomed to Sorrow—Two of the Victims Bright Young Girls.

Newbern, N. C., June 28.—A drowning in which four lives were lost occurred in Neuse river at this place this afternoon. The accident has cast a gloom over our city and in many homes there is weeping and lamentation.

The names of the dead are: William E. Clarke, Mary Bayard Clarke, Frances Bayard Clarke, Master George Bryan.

The two girls were the daughters of Mr. Clarke, and were aged respectively 12 and 9 years. The boy was about fifteen years old and was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Green Bryan of this city.

The facts of the accident as near as can be gathered in a time of so much distress and excitement are as follows:

Late this afternoon, Mr. Clarke, in company with the drowned children and his young son George, went out on the river for a row. The boat upset was the property of Mr. Clarke and had been used for similar excursions quite frequently in the past, no danger therefore was apprehended.

When within about one hundred yards of the shore opposite the city, in some manner the boat capsized and the occupants were all thrown into the water. All were drowned with the exception of Master George Clarke, who saved himself by holding to the upturned boat until help arrived.

When the sad news became known throughout the city, business was practically suspended and thousands of people have been to the bridge, rendering such assistance as was possible.

Up to this hour only the bodies of the two little girls and Mr. Clarke have been recovered. Mr. Clarke was a prominent citizen of Newbern and was a son of the late Judge W. W. Clark. He was a zealous Republican and was postmaster at this place under the Harrison administration.

At the time of his death Mr. Clarke held the position of deputy collector of customs of this port.

A SECOND REPORT.

Newbern, N. C., June 28.—Hon. Wm. E. Clarke, his two daughters, Mary B., aged 12, and Frances B., aged 9, and George B. Bryan, the 10-year-old son of Green Bryan, were drowned here to-night. The party was out rowing opposite the water works when the boat was swamped by the waves. Mr. Clarke's little son, William E., Jr., was the only one of the party saved. He clung to the boat until rescued. The bodies of the two girls have been recovered.

DAMAGING RAIN IN GREENSBORO.

Many Houses Flooded and Bridges and Southern Railway Trestles Washed Away.
Greensboro, June 26.—Greensboro was visited by a severe rain-storm this afternoon, which did much damage. The rain fell in torrents and flooded many houses. The Odell Hardware Company was damaged to the extent of $1,000; S. J. Kauffman, $400. Merritt, Johnson & Co., C. H. Dorsett and several others suffered considerable damage. Side walks and streets were badly washed.

Two Southern Railway trestles just outside the city limits were partially destroyed. Passengers on all southbound trains this evening were transferred and carried from here on a special. The Mt. Airy train had just crossed one of the trestles when it gave way.

Several bridges in the county were destroyed. It is believed that the crops have suffered untold damage.

MORGAN GIVES HARVARD $1,000,000.

The New York Financier Remembers a Former Boston Merchant.
Cambridge, Mass., June 26.—President Eliot announced at the Harvard alumni dinner to-day that John Pierpont Morgan had given more than $1,000,000 for the erection of three of the five buildings planned for the Harvard Medical School in Boston. The gift is for the prosecution of "applied biological research." The buildings will be a memorial to Junius Spencer Morgan, for many years a Boston merchant.

Cleveland, June 26.—A special to The Plaindealer from Gambier, O., says: "Senator Hanna, at the alumni luncheon, unexpectedly announced that he would give $50,000 to Kenyon College for the building of a dormitory. A year ago Kenyon College bestowed the degree of 'doctor of laws on Senator Hanna.'"

DETAILS OF THE FLOOD.

STILL UNCERTAIN AS TO THE EXACT NUMBER OF THE POCAHONTAS DEAD.

THE STORY OF AN EYE WITNESS.

2000 Men at Roanoke Made Idle by the Flood—Removing the Dead Bodies of the Victims From the Banks of the Roanoke River.

Roanoke, Va., June 26.—The majority of men working in Norfolk and Western shops here were laid off at noon in consequence of slack work occasioned by the floods in West Virginia. The shops employ about 2,000 men here.

The lowest estimate on loss of life today is thirty and the highest figure claimed is as at first stated 200.

Keystone, W. Va., June 25.—The following story is told by an eye witness of the great flood.

"Keystone is the metropolis of the Elkhorn mining country. It has but one narrow street and because of limited space many buildings were built on piles or walls over the Elkhorn or close up against the mountains. The town follows the meandering of the stream for a mile.

"Friday night at 11 o'clock the storm struck the mountain and for six hours rain descended in torrents. At daybreak the thousands of people along the Elkhorn and its tributaries realized that a great flood was upon them, but they little suspected the disaster soon to follow. By 9 a. m., the narrow valley was a raging, seething, angry torrent.

Houses, barns, bridges, fills, live stock and human beings were swept away by the mighty current and dashed on the rocks or trees below.

"I was an eye witness of the disaster at Keystone, being a guest at the National hotel. This hotel faces the mountain, with a narrow spot between it and the building on the mountain side of the street. At the first warning many of the inhabitants took refuge on the mountain side overlooking the town and river.

More than a hundred people, however remained in the town to look after the women and children who did not escape early. The bridge leading to the depot was soon swept away, then angry waters rushed through the only street in the town and we found hundreds cut off from the mountain retreat and the hotel was made fast to the telephone poles by means of a line. Hundreds of lives were saved. But in attempting to cross the muddy, surging waters which swept like an avalanche down this street, many lost their hold and in plain sight of friends were carried on into the river and drowned. Houses plunged and danced in the mighty stream, with screaming women and children on the roofs. Horses, cattle and other animals went down in droves and singly struggling for life.

"The Norfolk and Western railroad fill at this place gave way and more than a mile of track now lies in the bed of the river, while fills on either side are all gone. In fact, it is hard to tell how many miles of track and how many bridges have been swept away. The destruction is tremendous to railroad alone, and it may be days, and perhaps weeks before the track can run.

"The loss of life cannot be estimated from here. Eight lives were lost here. Six bodies have been recovered at Eckman, two miles below here. Several were drowned at Shawnee and a good part of the town swept away.

"All the women were conveyed from the hotel to the mountain side by means of the life line. Then the men left, as the place was unsafe. When it came my turn I seized the line and plunged into the muddy current. In an instant my feet were swept from under me and it was the sight of my life to reach the house on the south side of the street. The distance was not great and the water not more than three feet deep, but the current was almost irresistible, and even cows and horses were swept by me as I clung to the rope which was the only hope. Friendly hands pulled me out more dead than alive. The hotel is still standing."

HUNDREDS STARVING.

People in the Vicinity of Inger in Districts—100 Believed to Have Been Drowned.
Inger, Va., June 26.—An Associated Press correspondent reached this point to-day, which is in the central part of the northern section of the scene of Saturday's flood. Here is where the Dry Fork enters into the Tug river and along this stream the greatest destruction prevails and the loss of life here is even greater than at first reported. Beyond here for a distance of 30 miles the railroad track is almost completely washed away. It is believed 100 lives were lost. The inhabitants are desolate; in fact, hundreds are starving. There is no way of securing provisions on the Dry Fork of Tug river, save on muleback. This afternoon in one drove were 20 pack mules loaded with provisions, which made the start across the mountains from here to Bradshaw, a village 15 miles away, where it is said many families have had no food since Saturday. The waters came down the Dry Fork as a mighty wave, fully 20 feet high. At the intersection of the Tug river it met with another huge volume. Here the Tug river rose 30 feet in two hours. Bridges which span the river here were swept away, as well as twenty or more two-story buildings.

Another storm passed over this section again last night and for several hours the rain came down in torrents. The rivers are rising again to-day.

POSTOFFICES WASHED AWAY.

Action Taken by the Department to Furnish an Emergency Mail Service.

Washington, June 25.—Official advice to the Postoffice Department shows that the break on the Virginia and Ohio division of the Norfolk and Western Railroad caused by the floods extends for a distance of 50 miles, from Williamson to Ennis, except in spots. The branch line running from Goodwill to Bramwell is practically entirely washed away. Chief Clerks Goodloe, from Washington, and Sales, from Lynchburg, of the railroad mail service, have gone to the flood district to make a report on the situation and needs in a postal way.

The postmaster at Cedar Bluff, Va., wired to-day that the money order funds, forms, blanks and stamps, together with transit mail from Point Look, Va., were swept away by the flood. Cedar Bluff is on the Clinch Valley division of the Norfolk and Western Railroad, in Tazewell county. The postmaster at Ennis, W. Va., also reports his office swept away. The first action of the Postoffice Department in furnishing emergency mail service in the flooded district was taken to-day when Assistant Postmaster General Shallenberger authorized the establishment of a special service to Duhring via Bramwell and Freeman.

RURAL FREE DELIVERY SYSTEM.

ITS RAPID GROWTH AND THE BENEFITS THAT COME FROM IT.

People Who Opposed It Now Vigorously Landing—A North Carolinian Got The First Appropriation From Congress For The System.

The CAUCASIAN is very much gratified at the increasing popularity and rapid growth of free rural mail delivery system. It was the first paper in North Carolina to advocate this measure. Now every newspaper in this state, so far as we know, is a friend of the system.

At the time when the People's party first declared for free rural delivery in its platform, and when the CAUCASIAN was advocating this important addition to the postal system, the Charlotte Observer, if we remember correctly, and many other democratic papers ridiculed the proposition as another wild Populist vagary. Indeed, they charged that the scheme was not only absurd, but if put into operation, would bankrupt the United States Government. Senator Wolcott and other members of Congress who made speeches in opposition to it when the battle was first begun for establishing the system, used much the same language. Senator Wolcott declared that the free rural delivery system would cost the United States Government one hundred million dollars a year and bring in no increased revenue. The fact is that the system where established has so increased the amount of mail matter that it is more than self-sustaining. We are delighted to see that the Charlotte Observer is thoroughly converted, as will be seen from the following editorial which appeared in a recent issue.

"The rural delivery system having proved so conspicuous a success, it is strange that a voice should be raised against it anywhere. But there has been in North Carolina at least, a Congressman representing one of the districts of the state is having a good deal of trouble in the establishment of rural delivery routes on account of the opposition of country merchants who are postmasters and who, by reason of having postoffices in their stores, enjoy a good deal of trade which they would not otherwise receive. From the good day of history even down to this good day men were ever much alike. It is recalled that at a time when it looked as if Paul were about to convert all Ephesians to Christianity, one demetrius, a silver-smith, which made silver shrines for Diana, called together all the craftsmen of like occupation and informed them that their craft was in danger and reminded them that by this craft they had had their wealth. This is just the situation of these objecting postmasters with regard to the rural delivery routes."

Free rural delivery has come to stay and it will not be long before it will spread over the entire length and breadth of the United States. It should be a matter of especial pride to North Carolinians that the first appropriation secured and the first enactment for establishing this system was put through Congress by the efforts of a North Carolinian.

THE COST OF STATE TROOPS IN THE SPANISH-AMERICAN WAR.

A Report of the War Department Showing the Amount Claimed by Each State and the Amount Paid So Far.

The War Department has prepared a statement showing the amount of the claims filed by each State and Territory for billing out volunteers for the War with Spain. It also shows the amount allowed and paid in each case by the Government and the balance which the States claim to be due and which the Government has so far refused to pay.

The statement prepared by the War Department is as follows:

It will be noticed that nearly every State is still claiming a large amount as due which the Government refuses to pay. The State of Texas is the only claimant who has been paid in full. The State of New York put in a claim for $938,552, but the Government has only paid $353,082, a little more than one-third of the claim. Connecticut put in a claim for $175,648, of which amount the Government has paid only $22,445, or about one-eighth. Massachusetts put in a claim for $448,218 and has received only $37,975. North Carolina has filed her claim, having put in a claim for $29,817 and received $20,610.

The total of the claims filed aggregate $5,870,179, while the total of the payments made by the Government aggregates the sum of $3,329,745, leaving more than $2,540,000 still due and unpaid.

SUING EX-SENATOR RAMSON.

Voight of Norfolk Sues for a $1,000 Grocery Bill.
Raleigh Times-Visitor.

A suit has been instituted in Norfolk against Ex-Senator Matt. W. Ramsom.

R. P. Voight, through Whitehurst and Hughes, his counsel, institutes the action in the Court of Law and Chancery against ex-United States Senator Ramsom, of North Carolina. This $1,000, it is alleged, is the amount of a bill for groceries sold by the plaintiff to the defendant. These supplies are said to have been bought by Senator Ramsom for his large farm near Weldon. He is one of the largest shippers of cotton in the state. Funds in the hands of J. W. Perry, John N. Vaughan and Euro, Gregory and Company belonging to the defendant have been attached. The case will probably come up before Judge Martin in Norfolk next month.

Peru, Ind., June 26.—Thirteen persons were killed and about thirty seriously injured in a collision of train No. 3, the westbound Wabash limited, nine miles west of this city at 12:30 a. m., today. The dead are all Italian emigrants en route to Colorado, whose names are unknown.

The Gospel of Keeping Young.

From address of W. G. Ward, in Boston.

Never give up your youth. The glory of the Greeks was their glory in their youth. It is a gracious man that keeps a heart young. To do this, never neglect your daily exercise and as the years creep on practice it twice and thrice, yes, many times a day if need be. Above all, remember the beauty of mind and character. Don't let anything hurt your mind. By that I mean, particularly, don't worry.

MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP.

The following item from Rock Hill, S. C., appeared in a recent issue of the Charlotte Observer:

"Rock Hill, S. C., June 12.—Municipal ownership of the water-works and electric light plant is before the people of Rock Hill. At a citizens' meeting some time back resolutions were passed endorsing the idea, and a petition, asking for an election for the purpose of the authorizing the city council to issue bonds to the amount of $75,000, has been circulated among the real estate owners, and at last the necessary names have been secured."

It is very gratifying to see how rapidly the correct and wholesome principle of municipal ownership is growing in every quarter of the country. We are especially delighted to see that a paper like the Charlotte Observer no longer bars out from its columns such news items; indeed, a few weeks ago the Observer had an editorial speaking favorably of the principle of municipal ownership. This indicates great progress for that paper as well as for this correct principle of government. It has been only a short time since the Charlotte Observer was ridiculing municipal ownership and referring to it as a Populist vagary and as rank paternalism, etc.

When the Peoples party was organized ten years ago it was the only political party that dared to advocate municipal ownership.

Every town should not only own its water-works, but its electric light and gas plants, its telephone systems, and its street car lines. It is a proper function of the municipality to furnish all of these necessities to all of the people of the municipality at cost, and, furthermore, give a better service than private companies ever have or ever will.

The city of Raleigh is at present a striking object lesson as to the necessity for municipal ownership. We have here three telephone systems, and the result is that fewer people are connected by telephone than if there was only one system. In the first place, each system charges more for the service than it is worth, and after a person has subscribed to one system he reaches less than one-third as many people as he would reach if there was only one system in the city. Why? Because it is necessary for a person to get any satisfaction from the telephone service to have all three of the telephones in his house or in his office. This makes the cost of the telephone service to a person who has the three telephones in his office or residence over $100 a year. Thus, after paying over $100 a year the subscriber can talk to fewer people than if there was one system operated at a cost that would enable every one to be a subscriber. If the city owned the telephone system in Raleigh it could be operated at less than one-half the cost that any one of the present systems charge and would be worth five times as much as all three of the systems now in operation. If the three systems now doing business in Raleigh can live with less than one-third of the patronage that one good system ought to have and would have, then one system controlled by the city could be operated for less than one-third of what each one of the present systems charges. This is too evident for controversy.

Again the price charged by the water company of Raleigh is more than twice what water would cost the people of the city if the city owned and operated its own plant, and the same is true of gas and electricity. There is no way the city government of Raleigh or of any other city can accomplish so much for its citizens as by taking hold of these matters and managing them in a business-like and common sense way. The people have this matter entirely in their own hands and when they see fit to save money in their own pockets and at the same time double their comforts they can do so.

Municipal ownership of these necessities is so correct in principle and so necessary for the comfort and convenience of the people of the municipality that the enemies of municipal ownership no longer dare to combat the proposition in the open. The public ownership of railroads is 100 times more important than municipal ownership of other corporations. Not only 100 times more important so far as the cost of transportation and travel is concerned, but especially to prevent discrimination between different cities and different sections of the country, and, even greater than this, 100 times more necessary to prevent the corrupting influence exerted by these gigantic corporations in controlling our politics.

RED SHIRTISM VS IMMIGRATION.

There can be no actual necessity for offering and commenting on facts, at this time, for the sole purpose of convincing reasoning and intelligent people that the present red shirt administration of the state is consistently guilty of farcical and foolish acts. On this score there is a settled conviction. Now and then, however, for the purpose of having a laugh or making the wonder grow we may bring forward something which may have escaped the attention of some people.

Until a few weeks ago we had in this state a commissioner of immigration—a man whose official duty was to try to "induce" capital to come into the state and to persuade people to come here from other states to live. Until a few weeks ago this official drew his pay and if he ever "induced" or "persuaded" anything to come here nobody knows it. And now this gentleman—the immigration commissioner has gone to another state to live, or at least to do business for himself.

Such a fact opens up a wide field for wonder and comment. For instance, we all remember the red shirt campaign of 1898. We also remember the campaign of 1900 which resulted in the counting in of the "force and fraud" allies who are now in control of the state. The wild, lawless and anarchistic scenes of these campaigns were not only looked upon with astonishment and pain by the order loving and law-abiding people of the state, but they were painted in all their luridness and disgrace by the red shirt papers, and the news of what was going on was sent from ocean to ocean and from Canada to Mexico. People everywhere read the accounts of bedlam and ruffianism that were going on, and not a man of any decency anywhere, who thought of the matter at all failed to feel thankful that he was not a citizen of a state where such lawlessness and scoundrelism were possible.

Yet—just think of it! Yet, when red shirtism got control of affairs it had the sublime gall—the superb nerve—the "audacious" effrontery to establish an office and appoint an officer to "induce" or persuade people to come to this state to live—to come where "red shirtism" and ruffianism, for a time at least, had scored the grandest success on record—to come where "force and fraud" openly boasted of its power and its purpose to reign and rule!

Well, who came? Who, in the name of God and common sense but a fool or ruffian could be expected to come?

How much "capital" came? What capital is it that will willingly expose itself to "force and fraud"?

There is no need to answer these questions. They echo their own answers.

The immigration agent drew his pay and nothing else for about two years. Then he took a notion to go to another state. His office was then officially abolished because "it did not pay."

But it paid the agent for a nice little period of time.

WHY NOT A GUARD OF RED-SHIRTS FOR THE GOVERNOR?

The Stateville Landmark, commenting upon the recent refusal of Governor Aycock and Senator Simmons to attend the banquet of the Manufacturers Club in Charlotte because Senator McLaurin was also invited, in connection with the invitation to the Governor from the same club to attend at a later date, says:

"Gov. Aycock is to speak before the Manufacturers' club in Charlotte Saturday. The Governor had better take a body guard of the pure-hearted with him from Raleigh. If he doesn't have a care his politics will become tainted by association with the Charlotte Manufacturers' club and the Charlotte people."

When Governor Aycock went to speak at Clinton, Sampson county, last summer he took with him a bodyguard of 500 reckless, lawless, drunken redshirts who were not only armed with guns and rifles, but who were constantly firing their weapons to the alarm of all good, law-abiding Christian people. We understand that the excuse for this disreputable bodyguard was that the Governor was afraid of being contaminated by Sampson county Populists. Now if the Governor was afraid to go to Charlotte to the Manufacturers' Club Banquet because he was afraid of being infected by some of the company present we suggest that he take a sufficient body of lawless, drunken redshirts along to protect his patriotic virtue. A lawless mob of this kind should certainly be a good antidote against any infection that might come from commercial development and progress.

The Durham Herald commenting upon this same matter says:

"As the Governor has accepted an invitation to attend a banquet given by the manufacturers' club of Charlotte the club should be particularly about the company he is to meet."

We would like the Durham Herald to explain how Governor

Aycock can afford to go to the Manufacturers' Club Banquet at Charlotte and not be contaminated by Gen. J. S. Carr, if he should be present, any more than he could go when Senator McLaurin was there without being contaminated. Has not Gen. Carr recently endorsed the speech that Senator McLaurin made at that banquet, and, indeed, endorsed his present political attitude fully? No one knows better than Governor Aycock that there are certain things that will be ruinous to hide-bound machine Democracy, and he, standing as the champion of that species of politics in the South, should not take the precious Bourbon relic into an atmosphere that would be fatal to its future most-backism.

ECONOMY IN PUBLIC AFFAIRS.

We are glad that as a rule there is economy in public affairs in our state. It invites capital. It pleases our own home people. It makes taxes easier to collect. It creates a personal pride in our government on the part of our citizens. An honest listing of taxes and an honest expenditure of tax money are necessary complements.—N. C. Baptist.

The above appears to be from a religious paper—the kind of paper that should be a powerful agency for insisting on facts and presenting them. The last paragraph is all right. The first paragraph may be an honest opinion or expression, but it is utterly devoid of fact. If a paper of this character, either through carelessness or ignorance, can permit such an erroneous expression in its columns, what may we expect of these democratic machine papers whose sole object appears to be to suppress the truth?

The North Carolina Baptist should either refrain from commenting on certain things, or acquire more knowledge as to facts. Whether it knows it or not, there is now a wider extravagance in public affairs, with less capacity in the governing power of the state to remedy the trouble, than has ever been before known.

MACHINES TO COUNT VOTES AND MACHINES TO COUNT OUT VOTES.

The Hickory-Mercury in an editorial says:

We see that the Governor of Pennsylvania has signed the bill calling a convention to change the constitution of the State so that hereafter they can vote in that State by means of a machine. We don't have to go to that trouble in this State; we vote by a machine in defiance of the constitution—have to do that in order that a certain class of bloodsuckers can obtain office and get at the pie counter.

The above is very well said, but it might be added that the purpose of the machine in North Carolina is to prevent voting or to count out votes or to count them for the wrong person, while, as we understand it, the purpose of the voting machine used in certain northern states is to prevent this rascality and force the votes to be counted as cast. Therefore, it is safe to predict that the Simmons machine will always be against a vote counting machine.

A RAGING, ROARING FLOOD

Washed down a telegraph line which Chas. C. Ellis, of Lisbon, Ia., had to repair. "Standing waist deep in the water," he writes, "gave me a terrible cold and cough. It grew worse daily. Positively guaranteed for coughs, colds and all throat and lung troubles. Trial bottles free. Price 50c and $1. Sold by R. H. Holliday, Druggist.

Don't Wait.

The greatest danger from heart disease is in neglect. Palpitation or fluttering, pain in the left side, shortness of breath, smothering, fainting or sinking spells, are unerring signs of a weak heart—a heart that demands attention. Don't wait until it is too late. Don't neglect your heart until fatal disease has fastened itself upon you. Begin now to get relief.

"My wife had some difficulty with her heart a few years ago, and it became a matter of serious concern. Knowing the virtues of your Heart Cure from my office experience, she began using the remedy, and two bottles effectually relieved the trouble."—Dr. J. C. Hovick, Dental Surgeon, Addison, N. Y.

FIGHT FOR LIFE.

Steel Workers Begin a Momentous Struggle.

Pittsburg, July 1.—All the union men employed in the mills of the American Sheet Steel Co., are out today, in compliance with the order issued Saturday by Mr. Shaffer, president of the Amalgamated Association and ratified by the advisory board Saturday.

This marks the beginning of the struggle between union labor and the United States Steel Company. The battle could not be averted. Men familiar with the situation knew this weeks ago, when both sides were predicting peace, as they were aware of the fact that peace could not come without the surrender of principles either by the union or the trust.

A compromise seems out of the question, and unless one can be arranged the strike will be the most serious one in years, as the Amalgamated Association will go to the battle to fight for its existence. Ninety-five thousand men are involved in the strike.

Albama, N. C., July 2.—Three negroes at Kersville, one mile from this place, have smallpox. They contracted it while away working on a railroad. They were removed to an isolated house three miles away. Those exposed are quarantined. No further trouble is anticipated.

Ladies Petition to Vote.

Montgomery, Ala., July 2.—A petition was presented to the Constitutional Convention today by the ladies of Madison county asking the right to vote at least in elections for schools and where taxation is involved.

SORES AND ULCERS.

Sores and Ulcers never become chronic unless the blood is in poor condition. It is sluggish, weak and unable to throw off the poisons that accumulate in it. The system must be relieved of the unhealthy matter through the sores, and great danger to life would follow should it heal before the blood has been made pure and healthy and all impurities eliminated from the system. S.S.S. begins the cure by first cleansing and invigorating the blood, building up the general health and removing from the system all poisons and all morbid effects.

A CONSTANT DRAIN UPON THE SYSTEM.

When this has been accomplished the discharge of pus, blood and the sore of ulcer heals. It is the tendency of these old indolent sores to grow worse and worse, and eventually to destroy the bones. Local applications, while soothing and to some extent alleviate pain, cannot reach the seat of the trouble. S.S.S. does, and no matter how apparently hopeless your condition, when you practice about your sores, down, it will bring relief when nothing else can. It supplies the rich, pure blood necessary to heal the sores, and nourish the debilitated, it cures the body.

Mr. J. E. Talbot, Lock Box 245, Winona, Minn., says: "Six years ago my leg from the knee to the foot was sore. Several physicians treated me and I made two trips to Hot Springs, Arkansas. I was induced to try S.S.S., and it made a complete cure. I have been a perfectly well man ever since."

is the only purely vegetable blood purifier known—contains no poisons, minerals to ruin the digestion and add to, rather than relieve your sufferings. If your flesh does not heal readily when scratched, bruised or cut, your blood is in bad condition, and any ordinary sore is apt to become chronic.

Women suffering from headache, backache, nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, fainting and dizzy spells will find it a priceless blessing. Try it. Satisfaction is guaranteed. Only 50c a bottle.

HERE'S FOR A PLUNGE!

How many women feel equal to a dive below the watery deep? How many of them have the nerve for it? Very few.

Almost every woman suffers from a weakened condition of the mucous membrane that lines her body and this saps her vitality and energy. She is filled with nervous terrors and does not find life worth living. She is told she has dyspepsia or "female weakness" when in reality nothing ails her but catarrh or inflammation of the delicate lining of her organs.

She needs Pe-ru-na and nothing else. It is the only medicine necessary to restore her strength. What's the use of dragging through life half alive when Pe-ru-na will bring back all its pleasure? This medicine is a tonic for the whole body, and there is no doubt at all but that you need it, for it is the one real cure for all troubles.

CURRENT LOCAL NEWS.

Hon. Marion Butler left last week for Alaska, in the interest of a mining company.

The Carrollton Hotel property was sold Monday. Mrs. F. P. Tucker bid it in at $10,500.

Blind Tom, the wonderful negro musician played at the Academy of Music, this city, Tuesday night.

The deputy sheriff of Cumberland county arrived in the city Tuesday with two escaped convicts who had been captured in that county.

Tents will be shipped to Wrightsville this week for use by the State Guard at the encampment. There will be one hospital, 50 officers and 320 enlisted men's tents.

Tuesday, while assisting in moving some heavy iron girders to be used in repairs that are being made in the Supreme Court building, Tom Belvin, a white man, had the end of his fingers cut off and his right foot crushed near the toes. After the accident he was taken to Rex Hospital, where his wounds were dressed.

Mr. Theo N. Hill, of Raleigh, a poet of much note and reputation, died in this city last week. He was the son of Dr. William G. Hill, who was one of the most noted physicians in the state. His grandfather, Mr. William Hill, was for more than forty years Secretary of State of North Carolina and served long in office than any official in its history.

There are twenty applications for the Professorship of Agriculture at the A. & M. College. The Board declared its purpose of getting the very best talent. The salary is $2,500 per year, the highest paid any professor in North Carolina, and as much as a Supreme Court Judge gets in fact. In this connection it might be noted that there are some engineers who make more a year than a Judge of the Supreme Court.

Postmaster Bailey has been collecting subscriptions for the Mitchell county flood sufferers. Governor Aycock received a letter from Mayor Turner, of Bakersville, who was in the same class with him at the State University, asking for aid for the stricken people. The letter is an appeal, and says the people of the state do not appreciate the true situation; that there is much suffering and great want of the necessities of life.

There were two wrecks on the Seaboard Air Line at Nouse Tuesday. A passenger train ran into the freight and both were considerably damaged, the cow catcher on the passenger train engine was broken and otherwise disabled. There was a general wreckage of freight cars and some damage was done to the coaches on the passenger train. An engine was sent out from Johnson Street, this city, to their relief, and it jumped the track at Millbrook and fell broadside across the track. No one hurt. The track is cleared and all trains running on time now.

There were 263 applications before the county Pension Board in Raleigh Tuesday. Of the 188 soldiers applications, 106 were approved, 6 were rejected, and 76 were referred to the county commissioners. Of the 75 widows who applied for pensions 64 were approved. A member of the board Tuesday said that there are 21 widows of old soldiers who draw pensions during last year who have not renewed their applications this year, and if they are not renewed before next Monday they can not get a pension under the new law. There are also 18 old soldiers who have not renewed their applications. It is not known how many of these are dead.

Sampon Still in the Lead. Wednesday's News and Observer states that the first cotton blossom of the season comes from Johnston county, which is a mistake. We are in receipt of a cotton blossom grown on the farm of Mr. Geo. R. Williams, of Sampson county, that was picked Saturday, while the one in Johns was not picked until Monday. The Sampson farmers know how to farm as well as how to cast their vote at election times.

A Family Base Ball Team. In Cary, Wake county, there is a unique base ball line. Every member of the team is a son of Mr. Jim Jones, except one, the captain, and Mr. Jones fills that place himself. Mr. Jones is the father of 23 children, 15 of them boys, so he has enough material to select a crack nine from, does not use the same pitcher every day. Mr. Jones captains the team and plays second base, while the youngest player is short stop.

Not Very Good. It is not pleasant to chronicle bad news, but sometimes it had best be known. Information from many parts of Wake county indicate that crops are in a bad condition. The cotton crop is very late and very poor. In some sections the continued rains and late seasons have caused a reduction of twenty per cent in the average. Farmers now say it is impossible to make more than half a crop at the state. Rev. W. G. Clements says that crop conditions are worse than he has seen them since 1867. Congressman Stroud, who lives in Chatham county, says farm conditions there are in a deplorable condition, and if the same conditions exist generally he would not be surprised at almost a famine among the people.

It is important that those who go on excursions for pleasure or health should make some provisions against the attacks of bowel diseases, which not only cause them great inconvenience, but are sometimes fatal in their results. A bottle of Perry Davis' Pain Killer is, we have found, a most effective remedy against such attacks. Avoid substitutes, there is but one Pain Killer, Perry Davis'. Price 25c and 50c.

Deaths Sunday From the Exhaustive Heat.

Nineteen deaths and twenty prostrations were reported Sunday in New York from the excessive heat.

Three deaths at least from the heat occurred at Lawrence, Mass., a total of seven since Friday. At Manchester, N. H., there were three deaths from the heat.

In Pittsburgh, Pa., eleven deaths, directly traceable to the effects of the heat, and fifteen prostrations are recorded. Mr. Edward J. Walsh, president of the Mississippi Glass Company and of the St. Louis Terminal Company, died Sunday from heat prostration on board a train between Gays and Mattoon, Ill. Baltimore was the second hottest city in the United States. Thermometer registered 92 degrees. One death and several prostrations were reported. Philadelphia had the hottest June day since 1897.

Sunday was the seventh day during which the thermometer reached 100 degrees in Lincoln, Neb.

Entrance Examination for A. and M. College.

Candidates for admission to the A. and M. College at Raleigh will be examined by the County Superintendent of Schools in the court-house at 10 o'clock a. m. July 11, or at the College, September 3. This College is giving instruction in the most important lines of practical education, and its students are in great demand, always securing profitable employment on graduation. It offers special advantages to students of Agriculture, including free tuition and lodging and work on the College farm. The textile building is now being erected. A Professor of fancy weaving and dyeing has been added to the Faculty, and about $20,000 of textile machinery secured. As dormitory accommodation is very limited it would be well for candidates to apply early. Write to President Winston, Raleigh, N. C., for catalogue and booklets. See advertisement.

Raleigh Business Directory.

A newspaper whose columns overflow with advertisements of business men has more influence in attracting attention to building up a town than any other agency that can be employed. People go where there is business. Capital and labor go where there is an enterprising community. No power on earth is so strong to build up a town as a newspaper well patronized, and its power should be appreciated.—St. DeWitt Talmage.
